*I attended UCSB XC camp the summer before my senior year with two of my teammates. We went on to finish third as a team at the California state meet that fall and we owe a large degree of success to our experience at the camp. I remember getting back and being absolutely stoked to start racing. We got to hang out with elite college athletes, live the lifestyle of a college runner, and learn from some of the best coaches in the business. There's so much individual attention paid to each runner. It was an amazing opportunity to soak up all the knowledge that the staff had to offer and learn exactly what it takes to be a successful high school and college runner and have a blast doing it, in one of the best training environments imaginable. Brendan Gregg - Stanford University & Davis HS Alumni; 2016 Olympic Marathon Trials Qualifier; Professional Athlete for Hansons Brooks
